Rabbi Sim Glaser

Dear Friends,

Thirty-four Temple Israel congregants journeyed with Barb and me to the land of Israel this last March. The trip was stunning on many levels. Our goal was to encounter Israel historically,

- Kabbalistically (Jewish mysticism) and with regard to Israel’s monumental achievements in modern technology.

- We planted trees just an hour after landing and then proceeded north to Tsfat, the city of Jewish mystics. We studied basic Kabbalah from David Friedman through the prism of his gorgeous artwork. We hung out with Israeli soldiers guarding the Israel-Lebanon border, and toured the Golan by Jeep. We sang songs at the grave of Naomi Shemer, writer of Yerushalayim Shel Zahav and countless other iconic Israeli tunes. On our way down to Jerusalem through the Jordan River Valley we explored ancient Beit Shean, a 4,000-year-old city whose ruins catalogue the complex and fascinating relationship between Jewish and Roman pagan civilizations.

- Jerusalem has never looked as vital and gorgeous, growing by leaps and bounds with modern fashion malls that abut ancient city walls. Workers were busily preparing for Barack Obama’s visit just a few days after we were to leave (he was reportedly disappointed not to get to see us). We stepped 3,000 years back in time to the days of King David just across the way from our hotel, learning about the days of the first Temple and making our way through the Western Wall Tunnels. Erev Shabbat found us at the Southern Wall of the Temple mount for our own Shabbat service after which we went to the Kotel itself to join with hundreds of Jews welcoming the Sabbath.

Based in Jerusalem for several days we made day trips to Masada and the Dead Sea.

Our visit to the Holocaust Memorial, Yad Vashem, was deeply moving. The contrast of the Jewish people’s tortured past and its brilliant present was as stark as ever. We visited a leading medical technology company and another venture that promotes young start ups so that new ideas are welcomed and supported.

These are only highlights of what turned out to be an amazing trip. But why am I telling you all this, you might be asking? There are many ways to support and learn about the Jewish state. Probably the most profound way is by visiting there. This trip was one part of a very full year of Israel programming here at Temple. We have had AIPAC and J-Street sponsored speakers including former ambassador Daniel Kurtzer, an Israeli Wine Tasting and film night, and educational forums with co-chair Bob Ketroser, Steve Hunegs from the JCRC, and Representative Frank Hornstein. We were also well represented by our fifth graders at the mobbed Israel Independence Day celebration at the State Fairgrounds.

I find myself consistently amazed and grateful to be living in an age where there is a Jewish state. We sometimes take it for granted, but Israel is nothing short of a modern miracle. Even in its toughest geopolitical moments Israel shines as a beacon of light to the world. Desalinization of seawater has solved Israel’s historic water crises. Sustainable energy designs for cars and light rail systems, exported rescue teams for international disasters and extraordinary biomedical innovations are all part of the modern state of Israel. You never say “shalom” when you leave Israel. You say “I’hitraot” ...I’ll be coming back soon.

B’virkat Shalom - With Blessings of Peace,

Rabbi Sim Glaser

High Holy Days Floral Fund Donations

The High Holy Days are a time of the year when many congregants choose to remember their loved ones by purchasing flowers for our sanctuary and other special areas at Temple.

If you wish to contribute to this fund, please make your check payable to the Temple Israel Floral Fund. A minimum donation of $25 is suggested. Please mail your check to Temple Israel by Friday, August 2: Temple Israel, High Holy Days Floral Fund, 2324 Emerson Avenue South, Minneapolis, MN 55405.

Acknowledgement of your contribution will be included in an upcoming issue of HaKol. If you have any questions, please contact Kisha McLain at 612-374-0324 or kisha@templeisrael.com.

Temple Membership for Adults Ages 25 - 35

Have you heard about our Temple Israel Young Jews (TIYJ) membership: a full membership for young adults ages 25-35? The cost of this membership is $36 annually and includes a High Holy Days Admission Card, a subscription to HaKol and all other membership privileges.

Consider a gift of Temple membership for your child or grandchild. Contact Membership Director Liz Mack at 612-374-0318 or liz@templeisrael.com for more information and a membership application.

Yom Kippur Book of Remembrance

Again this year, Temple Israel's Memorial Book of Remembrance will be distributed during the Yizkor Service on Yom Kippur. The Book of Remembrance is both a beautiful and dignified memorial to the lives of our loved ones, and a cherished keepsake.

The forms for the Yom Kippur Book of Remembrance and the Wall of Remembrance Memorial Plaques were mailed to your home at the end of May. Please complete and return these forms as soon as possible. Call Kisha McLain at 612-374-0324 if you have any questions or you would like another form.

Wall of Remembrance Memorial Plaques

A memorial plaque is a special way to remember a loved one in perpetuity. A small, engraved brass plate is permanently mounted on the yearzeit memorial wall in our Hall of Remembrance and a cast bronze plaque is placed annually on the yearzeit wall near the Deinard Chapel ark during the week of the yearzeit.

Remembering Suzanne Efron

1938-2012

Suzanne Efron loved people, and that drew others to her.

When she smiled at you, all the warmth in the world was aimed in your direction, and that's how she welcomed thousands of people into the sanctuary over many years as a proud member of the Temple Israel Usher Corps. It was a job she treasured and replicated in many venues – as a receptionist for Miller Publishing, a hostess at Perkins and a volunteer at Sholom Home.

An Iowa native and the sister of Temple member Rivoli Golden, Sue married the love of her life, Stanley Efron, at Temple Israel in 2001. Together they traveled the world, often with Sue as co-pilot. One time the landing gear wouldn't come down, and Stan handed his bride a wrench to fix it mid flight. She calmly rose to the challenge and lived to tell the tale.

The sanctity and the serenity of Temple are built on the foundation of people such as Sue Efron. Today, she is remembered with a fund established by her husband Stan in her memory – the Suzanne Efron Memorial Endowment Fund.

May Sue's warmth and kindness, her love of Judaism, and her delight in her Temple community be enduring blessings.

Donations and tribute gifts may be made to the "Temple Israel Foundation – Suzanne Efron Fund." Call Dianne at 612-374-0313 to donate by phone.

- Ben Zoma, Mishna 4.1

Dear Friends,

The feelings of warmth are still with me after the Shabbat service honoring my 25 years at Temple Israel and in the rabbinate. I greatly appreciate everyone who celebrated with me; those who weren't able to attend but sent warm wishes, greetings and generous contributions; and those who worked so diligently to perfectly craft every detail for a beautiful evening. We all felt the pride of this congregation and the greatness of our collective history, which will launch us toward the bountiful future that generations to come will look back on with pride.

Todah Rabah,

Rabbi Marcia A. Zimmerman
