Rabbi Hartman

Dear Friends,

Jewish wisdom holds that our children don't belong to us, they are both a loan and a gift from God. It is our job as parents to raise them to go out into the world and live a life of tzedaka, tzedek and tikkun olam—charity, justice and repairing our world. This is a huge responsibility Judaism places on new parents, but it is a holy endeavor.

As Mike and I excitedly await the arrival of our first child in July, we take seriously this Talmudic teaching and feel blessed that we are bringing our child into a world that includes the warm embrace and support of the Temple Israel community. Your excitement, good wishes, care and advice as I have traveled the road of pregnancy have made this experience richer for both me and Mike. I am especially grateful to all of you, to Rabbi Zimmerman, Rabbi Glaser and Cantor Abelson and to the entire Temple Israel staff for the gift of three months of maternity leave. I know this would not be possible without your support and my colleagues' unbelievable willingness to cover for me while I take this important time to get to know our child. I truly appreciate the insight of Rabbi Zimmerman, Rabbi Glaser and Cantor Abelson that this time will not only help me to be a better mother, but also a better rabbi. I feel truly grateful and blessed to be given this gift of time.

It is also with their unwavering support that I let you know I will still be on maternity leave during the High Holy Days. It is hard to imagine not leading prayer, preaching and supporting the TIPTY choir during Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur. I will truly miss being on the bimah during this holy time we all spend together. Yet I am greatly looking forward to sitting with Mike and hearing the incredible wisdom and insights of Rabbi Cytron who will be joining Rabbi Zimmerman, Rabbi Glaser and Cantor Abelson for the High Holy Days.

Mike and I look forward to the opportunity to worship together in the pews and to introducing our baby to the congregation during the Ne'lijah service at the end of Yom Kippur. We are excited for our child to feel the warm, supportive embrace of our community.

We feel truly blessed to be given this gift from God and are excited to embark on the adventure of parenthood.

B'virvat Shalom—With Blessings of Peace,

Rabbi Jennifer S. G. Hartman

University of Minnesota Center for Jewish Studies Community Lecture Series presents:

A Campus Divided: Confronting the Racist, Anti-Semitic, and Red-Baiting Politics of the University of Minnesota from 1930-1942

Riv-Ellen Prell, an anthropologist, is Professor Emerita of American Studies at the University of Minnesota, and past Director of the Center for Jewish Studies.

Wednesday, September 6, 2017, 7:30 p.m. at Temple Israel
Cospponsored by the University of Minnesota, JCRC and Temple Israel.

An exhibition co-curated by Riv-Ellen Prell and Sarah Atwood-Hoffman opening at the University of Minnesota Andersen Library on August 14 explores both the inspiring and disturbing story of racism in campus life. Student activists worked hard for change as they encountered on-campus racism and challenges to their rights to protest and hold a range of political views. At the same time student housing was segregated, and off-campus boarding houses' refusal to accept Jewish and African American students was sanctioned by the University. The exhibition tells the story of many of these forgotten activists who went on to remarkable careers and continued commitment to change.

Lighting the Way

Why Your Annual Commitment Matters

- Temple is always here for us—teaching and celebrating Judaism, providing pastoral support 24/7, and representing the Jewish community in Minneapolis.
- In our wonderfully diverse congregation, Temple is committed to opening its doors to all.
- Providing an affordable Jewish education for every child is a priority. Tuition covers 60% of a child's education at Temple Israel.
- Cost for security continues to increase with the rise in hate incidents. Last year, an additional $100,000 was added to the budget for security, and more is anticipated.
- The L'Dor Vador Campaign included $900,000 for our operating budget. With the campaign over, your annual giving will provide the funding to maintain our exceptional congregation.
- Members who give above the $3,000 Sustaining Level* help to support young adults, young families and those with financial hardship.

*The Sustaining Level represents the average needed per member household to cover Temple's annual operating budget.

"The energy at Temple is life-inspiring. For us together, Temple has embraced us. It is our spiritual home."

—Jory Herman

Jory Herman and Law Thoummavong

Praveena Alexander with her advocate, Mary Lutz

"Temple has remained steadfastly committed to meeting our daughter's special educational needs. We are grateful as we watch her grow within a Jewish context."

—Karilyn & Gary Alexander

"Temple and the clergy are there when any of us in the congregation need them. As a member for 39 years, I know the clergy are always there for us through life's ups and downs."

Temple has refreshed the look— and the contents— of your billing statements

Beginning in July, your billing statement for Temple Israel Annual Commitment, donations, and other charges will have a new look—just a few updates to make the statement easier to understand.

If you also have a student or camper in JEWL, Camp TEKO, or the ECC, you will receive in the mail a separate billing statement for those programs only. Later this fall, this statement will go paperless—you will access and pay your JEWL, Camp TEKO and/or ECC statements online.

It is easy to pay your Temple Israel statements digitally at www.templeisrael.com.

Join us on the journey to Temple's future

Temple is creating a new strategic plan—join us on this path!

Watch your mail for invitations to participate in Congregational Forums and surveys later this fall.
