Dear Friends,

Judaism affirms that God is with us in everyday life, but also, and perhaps especially, in sickness and in times of sorrow.

Over the past many years, I have had the privilege and honor to stand at the bedside of the sick and dying, with families of our congregation. At these poignant times, I hold their hands, offer words of comfort and blessing, and guide them through the darkness. As tears of love fill their eyes, I share words and melodies of comfort from our tradition, while their loved one, unable to speak, barely able to open their eyes, squeezes my hand. Often a faint smile comes to their lips as I sing Mi Shebeirach and Oseh Shalom.

Through these intimate moments, I have been blessed to build powerful bonds and connections with these beloved families. I walk alongside them on their journey through illness, loss and healing. These extraordinary experiences have shaped my career as your Cantor and, as I continue to serve this great congregation, I look forward to infusing the words of our tradition with new depth and meaning.

I have learned a great deal through these moments, but there is always more to learn and new ways to grow through continued study. Over the years I have humbly come to realize the depth of Jewish texts concerning healing and I have wanted to go deeper into Jewish healing practice.

Temple is giving me that opportunity to do so this winter—an opportunity for which I am so thankful.

I extend my whole-hearted thanks to our congregational leaders, the Board of Directors, staff, the clergy and especially Rabbi Zimmerman, who has been my friend, my rock, and from whom I have learned the power of compassion and of bringing healing comfort to others.

During this time of sabbatical, for three months beginning in the middle of December, I will be working here in Minnesota with medical professionals, as well as hospice and pastoral care counselors, to enhance my skill in serving this cherished congregation.

I look forward to returning to Temple refreshed and invigorated by this precious gift of time, and to sharing with our congregation a sense of renewal in God's healing presence.

B'virkat Shalom—With Blessings of Peace,

Cantor Barry Abelson

Volunteers are needed to prepare food and to serve dinners at the Jeremiah Program. Jeremiah is a non-profit organization helping mothers who are working to provide a stable family life for their children. Temple Sisterhood has been a partner in providing meals at Jeremiah for many years now, and it is a very rewarding activity for all who have participated. Jeremiah relies on community organizations to provide these dinners, and Temple Israel Sisterhood has always stepped up to do our part. Our continued participation is vital and deeply appreciated. ## Giving For The Future

“I have really strong memories of my time here. In every aspect of my life, I can tie a memory to this place.” –Josh Luger, 22

Josh’s earliest memories of Temple date back to his time in preschool. Even as a young child, Josh would think about the classrooms and their age, and that his mom likely sat in the same rooms years before.

Josh went on to attend religious school and Camp TEKO, and eventually he took a spot on the board of TIPTY. As a youth leader, Josh fondly remembers the excitement he would see among students and campers when the rabbis were present, and the pride on their faces as they participated in services or became b’nai mitzvah.

It was as a youth leader that Josh remembers trying to find places in Temple to hold social events, often with difficulty. There simply weren’t enough spaces with all the programs and classes taking place in the building, or the spaces that were available would be too small for the activities planned.

“The new facilities are necessary to provide new and different opportunities to keep kids involved,” said Josh. To Josh, the renovation of the building reaffirms Temple’s commitment to ensuring that those experiences and programs will continue for future generations. “I love this place,” he said. “I want to see Temple thrive.”

“What I love about Temple is that it isn’t just a place for Jews, but a place to bring Jewishness to the community. There is nothing at Temple that expresses that better than the education program. The community that comes together under Temple Israel is one of the most precious gifts our family experiences every day.”

–Nate Garvis

“Our daughter is in first grade and our son will be starting next year. We have many years ahead with school and lifecycle events at Temple. We are very excited that our children will get to learn in the new school and that they will experience even more of a sense of community due to the improvements within the program and within the building.”

–Shani Graber

“Temple has played a very important role in our lives. Our family really feels at home here. This campaign and project are long overdue. Temple is creating an environment that will bring the synagogue to where it needs to be. These renovations will enhance Temple’s strong spiritual, educational and social justice activities by creating more possibilities for growth.”

–Betsy Sitkoff

Remembering Stephan Larsen Wolf

November 22, 1971 - December 23, 1992

Stephan Larsen Wolf was idealistic, motivated and committed to tikkun olam — repairing the world. A Temple Israel member from birth, he was guided by Jewish teachings and loved his family, friends and community. Tragically, he died in a car accident at age 21. Just a month before his death, he penned these very powerful words in his journal:

“Jewish teachings dictate that one is never really dead unless all but forgotten. My belief, and consequently my advice, is to live forever. Leave your mark! Be remembered as one who has accomplished great things. Ensure that your spirit lives on in the hearts, souls and minds of all those that shall follow.”

In 1978, the TIPTY (Temple Israel Program for Temple Youth) Meals-on-Wheels program was started with the help of Jane Ketroser and Sheila Schuman. In 1993, Anne and Allen Wolf chose to honor the memory of their son by establishing the Stephan Larsen Wolf Meals-on-Wheels Fund at Temple Israel and sponsoring the Thanksgiving Meals-on-Wheels program in his memory. Today, 400 meals are prepared, packaged and delivered on Thanksgiving morning.

“It has been said by many that Stephan would be proud to know about this important project that the congregation is doing, and he would be smiling,” said his father, Allen Wolf.

We remember Stephan and honor his memory by gathering as a community for this worthy cause.
